Resolved, That it shall be unlawful for the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase any bonds for the use of the Government, or for any sicking fund, without giving one week's notice by publication of he time and place of purchase, and the exet amount of bonds to be purchased.

By Mr. Vance, of North Carolina: Pro iding that the act authorizing the issue of the Page patent for induction apporatus or circuit breakers be not construed to amborze the issue of a patent for any invention applicable to telegraph apparatus.

By Mr. Geddes, of Ohio: Proposing a onstitutional amendment prohibiting a third presidential term. The Speaker laid before the House a mes age from the President transmitting the eport of the Secretary of State on Chinese mmigration. The House, at 1:30 P. M. went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Springer in the chair) on the army appropriation bill. During the debate, Mr. Butterworth, of Ohio, said the pending amendment was in-tended to allow the Democratic presidential candidate to be counted in in 1881, whether elected or not. If the bill were vetoed the country would be filled with the false cry that the Republicans favored bayonets at the polls.

Messrs. Bayne of Pennsylvania, Crigham of New Jersey, Williams of Wisconsin, and Chittenden of New York, opposed the amendment. Mr. Chittenden, in his remarks in opposition to the amendment, quoted from the re-cent speech by Mr. Felton, of Georgia, alluding to the money-power as pirates. Would not that gestleman need the army to capture the pirates? Would be begin with the sage of Gramerev Park or the proprietor of the New York Herald, who caused balf a million dollars to be sent to against the bill on its final passage, as they Ireland, or his colleague Mr. Morton, who for the starving Irish? To gibbet these pirates the army was needed. After further discussion the general de-oate was closed. Several amendments were then offered. but all were rejected.

Mr. Sparks's amendment was amended, on motion of Mr. Hurd, of Obio, by adding the proviso that it shall not be construed to prevent the use of troops to protect against domestic violence, on application of the Legislature of a State, or the Governor when the Legislature cannot be convened. The amendment as thus amended was adopted. The committee then rose and reported the bill to the House.

The main question was ordered, and the House at 5:30 P. M. adjourned.
